THE ESSENCE OF ELON

Caring. About students. About its image. Caring enough to expand its campus, curriculum, enrollment financial base and expectations of each teacher and student who enters "the golden door."

by Bernadette Hearne

Lauri Crowder, a senior at Elon College, knows many people in North Carolina think her school is second-rate, but she never expected to hear it from a professor at a competing school.

"I decided to go to summer school in Wilmington and be near the beach," Crowder said. "Near the end of the session, this professor started in on me about why was I wasting my time at Elon? That I was too smart for Elon. I couldn't believe it."

"I told him he just didn't know what he was talking about. Almost every class I've taken here was better than his. This school is so much better than people think."

What Crowder encountered was an attitude about Elon that has dogged the 2,800-student liberal arts college near Burlington since the 1960's. With justification, Elon officials concede, the school acquired a reputation as an open-door institution that admitted anyone with a diploma, a place that hired its own provincial graduates to teach — most without doctoral degrees. Its academic program was said to be thin, its demands on students low.

But changes have occurred. In the past decade, the percentage of doctoral degrees among Elon's faculty has risen from 30 to 70 percent, and those degrees are as likely to be from Harvard, Indiana State, Georgia, Mississippi, Ohio or Oklahoma as from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill or Greensboro.

In the past five years, library holdings have tripled from 50,000 to 150,000 volumes. New programs of study include computer science, communications and Elon's first master's program in business administration.

This fall, the college is installing cable television hookups in every dormitory so students can watch the closed-circuit campus television station emanating from the sophisticated production facility Elon just built. Microcomputers are plentiful, and students have ready access to them virtually any hour of the day. Construction of a major fine arts center is scheduled to begin this fall.

Despite all the investment, Elon's endowment has grown from less than $2 million to nearly $8 million during President J. Fred Young's 13-year tenure.

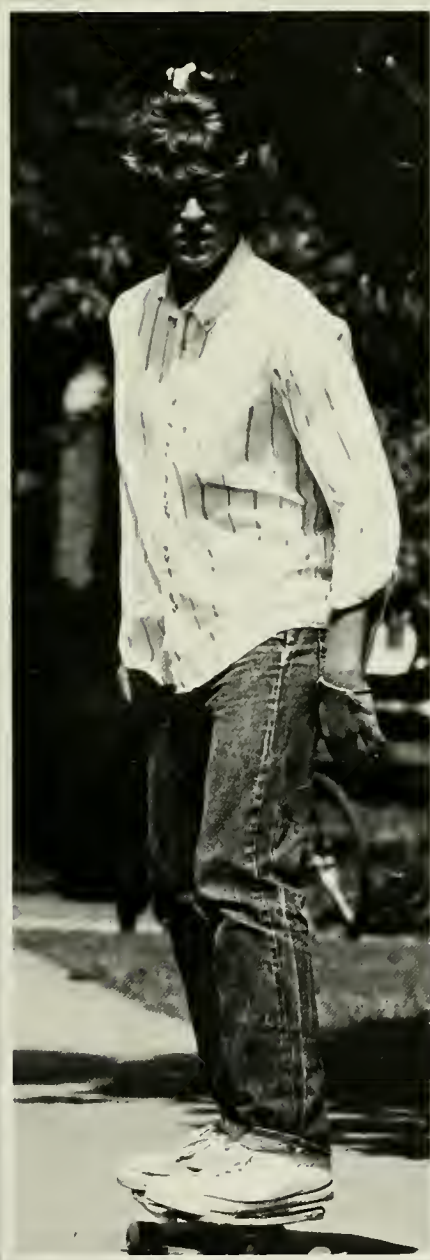

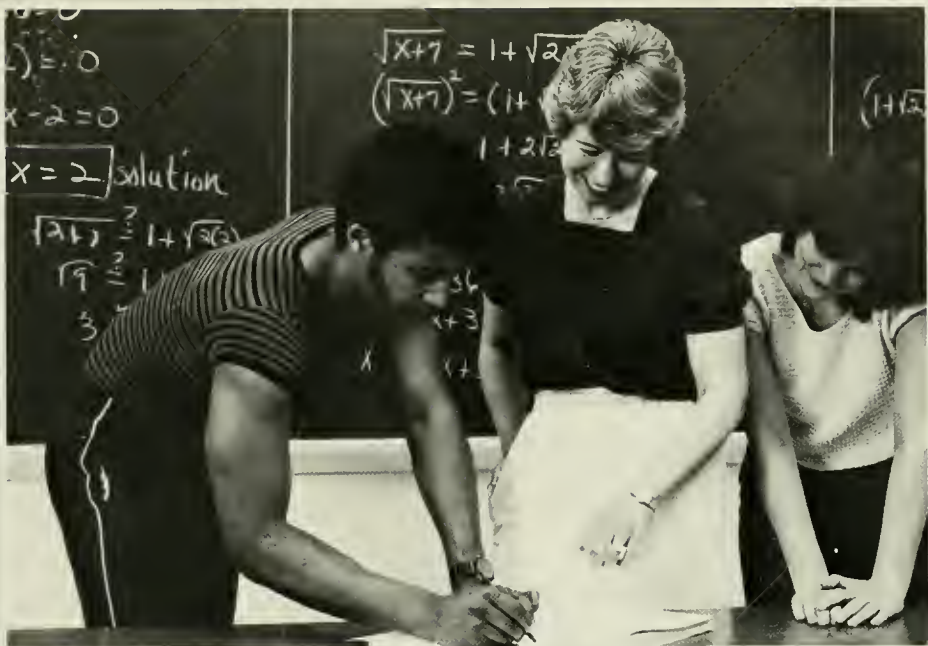

Courtyards, a fountain and acres of carefully-tended grounds have replaced parking lots and maintenance depots making Elon's one of the most beautiful campuses in the state. Adding to that beauty is the fact that the school's graceful Georgian buildings give no hint of the deferred maintenance slowly eating away at so many small colleges.

Meanwhile, student enrollment has grown from about 2,000 a decade ago to nearly 3,000 this fall. Applications are up 40 percent in the past three years; rejections have doubled.

Ironically, at a time when the number of traditional 18 to 25 year-old students is declining, Elon has succeeded in increasing its enrollment even as it has tightened its admission requirements.

In the past three years, average College Board scores among Elon's freshmen have climbed 50 points with 30 points of the increase coming just this year. The college celebrates its centennial, it intends to reject anyone with less than a 2.0.

Nan Perkins, assistant to the president, also is the mother of an Elon sophomore.

"As a parent, it's very important to me that the word gets out about how good this school is," Perkins said. "We don't need to promote it to attract more students or to show off. We're trying to give it more respectability. Those students in the middle deserve an education that has a respectability, just as the top students do."

Elon . . . promotes itself as a caring place, a college where every student receives personal attention and where every professor is a potential friend and mentor.

"Now that we're turning more students away, we're getting negative feedback from parents whose children weren't admitted," said Joanne Soliday, the school's director of admissions. "They say, 'We thought this was a place that cared,' which really translates, 'We thought you took anybody.'"

When you put yourself up front as a caring institution and you start turning so many down, it's difficult to communicate."

Former president Danieley is one of those for whom Elon was "the golden door."

"I could not have gone to college if this place was not here," Danieley said. "If I hadn't gone to college, I would have ended up in a mill or on a farm. I have so much appreciation for what this place does in the lives of people."

"Even now, although none of us knows all of the students, the relationship is very much like that of a family," Danieley said. "The week before classes started this fall, I had a student from La Paz, Bolivia, call me at 10 p.m. from the airport. He said he'd get a hotel room for the night and asked if I could pick him up in the morning."

"I told him absolutely not, got out of bed and went to get him. He stayed the night with us and had breakfast with the family the next morning. I don't tell that story to brag. I tell it because it is typical of this place."

"Caring" is a word used so often at Elon that it almost becomes a cliche. Administrators use it. Professors use it. Students use it. Without exception, it seems, everyone agrees that caring is Elon's essence and its greatest asset.

"I know you've heard it 1,000 times, but absolute caring really is the nature of this entire institution," said Linda Weavil, a business administration professor. "Almost anything I can say is so upbeat it sounds corny, but it really is the truth."

Thanks to caring, Elon's students are, by and large, thrilled with their college experience. Surveys of recent graduates show 95 percent would return to Elon if they could relive their college years. Asked what made their time at Elon so fulfilling, 97 percent mention their relationships with their professors.

In an unscientific survey of students encountered on campus, the result was the same. Everyone of them, asked what they liked best about Elon, mentioned personal attention from their professors as the primary benefit.

But a surplus of care and protection, particularly in relation to their social lives, is also a complaint students voice about Elon.

"There are times when they're a little too protective," one student said. "They should let us stumble and pick ourselves up a little more often. That's a learning experience too."

Young dismisses the complaint saying: "Students on any campus, if you asked them, would say they should be given more freedom. They'd probably even say that in Chapel Hill. That's just students."

The essence of caring, Elon officials agree, is personal attention. Providing it, though, isn't always easy at a college where the student-teacher ratio hovers on the high side at 20-to-1 and where the average annual teaching load is 27 hours. At most colleges, the average is 24 hours and the student-teacher ratio closer to 17 or 18-to-1.

"The high ratio and heavy teaching load account in large part for the college's financial stability," Young said. "It is made possible, though, by the college's dedication to hiring good teachers."

"There can be no credibility for an Elon faculty member who is not an effective classroom teacher," Young told the faculty at the opening convocation of the 1985-86 school year. "Good teaching has been and will continue to be our most pervasive characteristic."

"Teaching is the first and foremost consideration in granting promotions and raises," said Chris White, vice-president for academic affairs. "A teacher who can't teach won't last long at Elon."

"For teachers who want to teach," White said, "We're about the top of the line. Above Elon and a few schools like us, you get into the research game. That's why we're so popular with teachers who really want to teach."

Like all colleges that emphasize teaching, though, Elon walks a fine line. To be outstanding, its teachers must stay current in their fields. Research is the best way to stay current, but research and a heavy teaching load don't mix well.

Elon's biggest personnel problem is one shared by countless other colleges. It has only three blacks and one American Indian on its faculty, far too few to adequately balance the faculty or act as role models to the students, 9 percent of whom are black.

"I would say that hiring and keeping good minority faculty is our greatest challenge, our most persistent concern," Young said. "We're not satisfied with our record on that point, but we're constantly working on it."

Ironically, another of Elon's problems is its cost. In North Carolina, where public education is such a bargain, parents balk at paying $3,300 a year for tuition. The reaction is almost as extreme in the Northeast, home of increasingly more Elon students each year.

"We're so much cheaper than the Northern private schools that parents look aghast at me when I tell them the price," Soliday said. "You can see them thinking that if Elon is that cheap, it can't be as good as we say."

Vice-President Williams said Elon officials have even discussed raising the college's costs to better reflect its improved quality. "If you don't need to raise costs to keep things going though," she said, "It just doesn't seem right to do it for image."

Ironically, Elon's image appears to be poorest in North Carolina. It is best in Virginia, which once sent Elon 40 percent of the college's student body, and climbing rapidly on the Eastern seaboard to the north.

"The farther away from North Carolina that we get, the better the students we get because we aren't fighting the image problem," Soliday said.

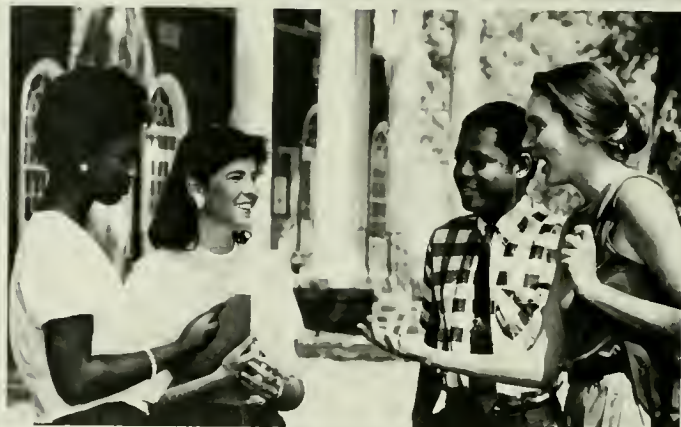

Added White: "They say that in academics, whether you're going up or you're going down, our reputation is a basic meat-and-potatoes school although that stopped being the reality about six years ago. The world just hasn't figured it out yet. We're gonna see if we can't change that."

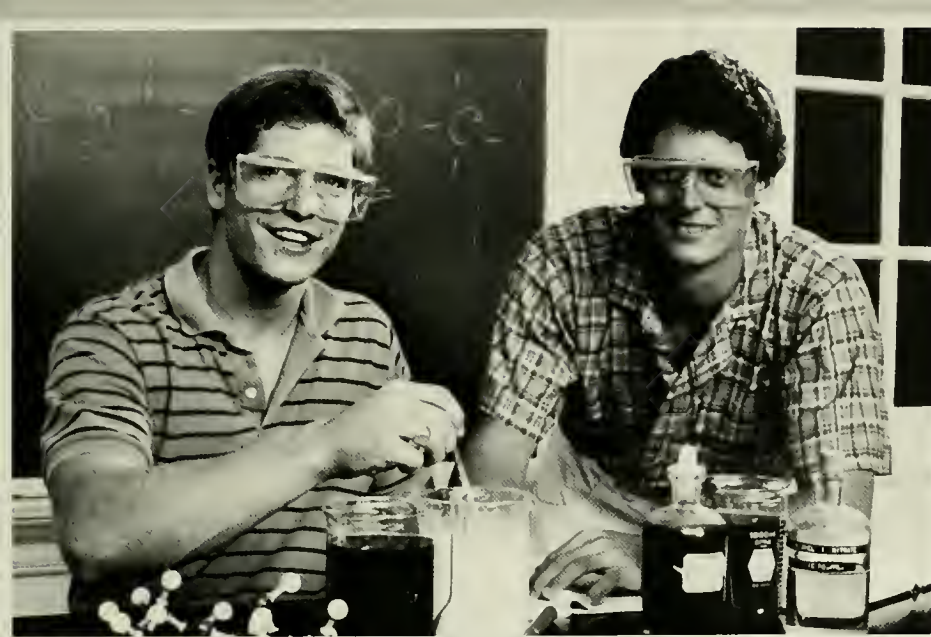

Even as the college makes a commitment to an improved public perception, the students who attend Elon are experiencing some new beginnings of their own. For each entering freshman, returning sophomore or junior, the year ahead is alive with possibilities. To begin the journey toward accomplishment and maturity is one of the most important and pivotal events in a person's life. College gives us each the potential to grow, to sharpen our perceptions, to expand our thinking and to ultimately change the world we live in.

For the class of 1986, an important transition is about to occur. Their year of new beginnings commences the moment they receive their degrees and take their places in the world community. Graduates of Elon College will return to their families and hometowns changed. They will have listened, studied, concentrated, written and talked about issues and events that will impact the way they will live out the rest of their lives. Now the real process of education can begin. Now they are truly candidates to be educated.

HOMECOMING '86

There was another dimension added to the "Essence of Elon" this year. During the Homecoming festivities we witnessed the first Homecoming parade in Elon's history. The parade kicked off celebrations for the weekend on Friday afternoon. President Fred Young led the procession beaming from his famed "Fredmobile" deluxe Cushman and was followed by twenty-four other entries. The procession made a complete circuit of the campus and was viewed by an estimated 2,000 spectators.

The Phi Mu and Tau Kappa Epsilon floats and the combination entry of Kappa Alpha and Zeta Tau Alpha won awards for originality. TKE, ZTA and KA all donated their prize monies to the United Way drive. Phi Mu donated $350 of its $500 winnings to that same fund.

The festivities continued with a performance on Friday night by the band "Sugar Creek". The concert was exciting and well attended.

On Saturday afternoon, the Elon Fightin' Christians defeated the Bears of Lenoir-Rhyne in both soccer and football. The final score in the football game was Elon 33, Lenoir-Rhyne 27.

For the visiting alumni, a golf tournament was held throughout the weekend and the alumni dance (held annually) took place on Saturday night at the Ramada Inn in Burlington. A reception for alumni and visiting friends was held on Scott Plaza.

Blue-collar troubadour Bruce Springsteen was the undisputed Boss of rock n'roll. His songs about Vietnam veterans, steelworkers and factory workers hit many responsive chords with all ages of Americans.

Ceremonies were held at various times during the year at the Vietnam Memorial in Washington to commemorate the tenth anniversary of the fall of the Saigon government in Vietnam. The Vietnam Memorial is inscribed with the names of more than 58,000 dead or missing soldiers from the Vietnam war.

A Trans World Airlines jet with 145 passengers and eight crew members was hijacked in Athens, Greece, in June. The Shiite hijackers took the plane to Beirut, then to Algeria and then back to Beirut. Most of the hostages were released within days but the remaining 39 hostages were held for 17 days. One American hostage was killed.

President Reagan, with his wife Nancy, gives the A-Okay sign from his hospital window in July after undergoing surgery to remove a cancerous tumor from his lower intestine. The 74-year old president was back on the job within weeks after the operation.

The Kansas City Royals won the World Series. Royals pitcher Bret Saberhagen embraces third baseman George Brett after pitching a five-hitter to give the Royals the World Series crown over the St. Louis Cardinals. Saberhagen, the winner of two series games, was named as the Most Valuable Player in the series.

Four Palestinian terrorists hijacked the Italian cruise liner Achille Lauro while on a Mediterranean cruise. One American was killed. After the ship was released the Egyptian government agreed to return the hijackers to the PLO. However, the hijackers were intercepted by American jets as they were flown out of Egypt and returned to Italy to stand trial.

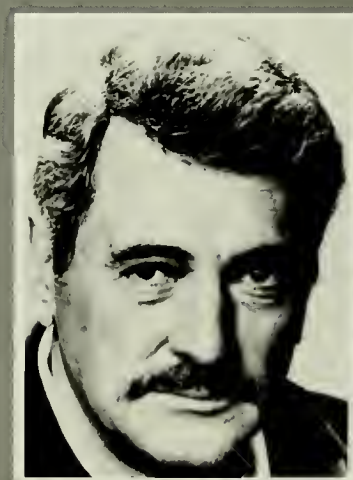

FIRESIDE CHAT — President Reagan and Soviet leader Mikhail Gorbachev talk in front of a fire place at the Fleur D'Eau in Geneva.

A series of devastating earthquakes rumbled through Mexico City in September and the death toll was in the thousands. Few in the metropolitan area of 18 million escaped the effects of the first quake, which registered 8.1 on the Richter scale; or the second quake, which measured 7.5.

Veteran actor and Hollywood heartthrob Rock Hudson shocked the movie-going public when he announced his affliction with AIDS. Hudson's battle with the disease made international headlines and encouraged thousands of other AIDS sufferers to come out of the closet. Hudson succumbed to the disease and died late in 1985.

The space program moved ahead. Space walker James van Hoften stands tall on the end of the robot arm of the Space Shuttle Discovery after successfully launching the repaired Syncom satellite in September.

An entire city block was destroyed in Philadelphia. Police tried to evict members of the radical group MOVE from their fortified rowhouse by dropping a small bomb on the building. A fire was started by the device and about 60 houses were destroyed.

DIGGING OUT — A resident of Armero in the Colombian mountains is helped by the Colombian Red Cross during digging out efforts, Friday. Many people are still trapped in mud and are being rescued with the help of hundreds of volunteers.

The war in the Mid-East continued in 1985. A distraught Moslem man hugs his son moments after they survived a car bomb explosion outside a West Beirut restaurant in late August. They are shown being hurried away from the carnage by another man as cars burn in the rubble-strewn street.

Riots were an almost daily occurrence in South Africa as blacks protested Apartheid. In this photo, a white man runs from a jeering group of stone-throwing blacks in downtown Johannesburg as widespread violence continued to breakout throughout the country.

A Delta Airlines jetliner crashed near Dallas in August, killing 137 people. The plane was on a flight from Fort Lauderdale, Florida to Los Angeles with an intermediate stop at Dallas-Fort Worth. Thirty-four people survived the crash but five died of injuries later. The plane encountered a severe wind shear as it plunged to the ground.

SELF-INFLICTED IMAGERY

For 1986, members of the PHI PSI CLI staff wanted to give the college community the unique opportunity to compose their own self-portraits. We trained a camera against a blank brick wall and invited students, faculty and staff to pose, preen and present their best (?) sides for Elon posterity. As incentive, we offered a fifty dollar cash prize to the individual or group who displayed the most creativity in composing their photo. Here then, are the best and most bizarre images of '86.

LOVE FOUNDATION GIVES $1 MILLION TO BUSINESS SCHOOL

The Martha and Spencer Love Foundation made a $1 million gift to Elon College during 1985. The donation was the largest private gift in the 97 year history of the college.

The funds will be used to endow the business school, which trustees have voted to name the Martha and Spencer Love School of Business in memory of the foundation's benefactors.

Announcements of the gift came at a news conference on December 6 on the campus following a meeting of the foundation board of trustees. Charles Spencer Love, chairman of the board and son of Martha and Spencer Love, made the announcement, surrounded by other Love children and trustees and college officials.

NEW LIFE FOR THE LEFT BANK OF ELON

On Wednesday, October 23 the Board of Trustees voted to move ahead with the construction of the entire Fine Arts Center. Groundbreaking ceremonies were held on November 7. Pictured here are Mr. Royall Spence and Mrs. Alysse Cooper turning a shovel of earth on that occasion.

Elon College President Fred Young said the gift signifies a new chapter in Elon College history.

The Business Administration program is the largest academic program at Elon College and involves 14 faculty members. Last year, the college established a new MBA degree, which will also benefit from the Love Foundation Gift.

William Proxmire, maverick United States senator from Wisconsin, paid a visit to the Elon campus on November 10th and 11th. His two-day visit was sponsored by the Student Government Association and the Liberal Arts Forum.

In a speech to an overflow crowd in Whitley Auditorium on Sunday evening, Proxmire blasted the federal deficit, military spending and inflation. "The U.S. economy is headed for disaster," he said, "unless we take rough, crude steps."

Former US President Gerald R. Ford visited the Elon campus in February of 1986. President Ford spoke to capacity crowds in the Alumni Gymnasium on "The Future of the Republican Party" and conducted a press conference in the LRC TV production studio. President Ford was welcomed to NC on the Elon campus by Governor James Martin. This was President Ford's second visit to Elon — he visited the campus in the late 1960's while he was House Minority Leader.

Other stories that meant big news on the Elon campus included the outcome of Super Bowl XX — played this year in New Orleans. Pictured here are Chicago Bears Jim McMahon and Kicker Kevin Butler on the sidelines during the game. The Bears beat the New England Patriots 46-10. We won't speculate on how much Elon students won or lost in bets on this game.

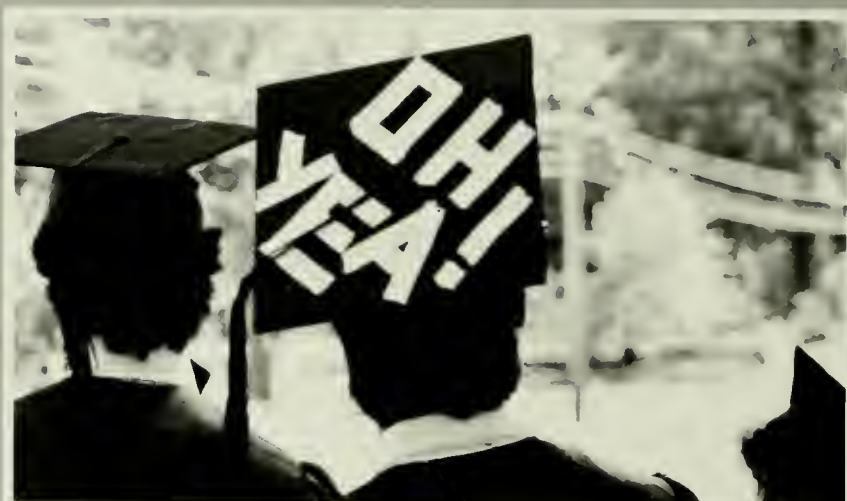

Elon students watched in horror the unfolding of events surrounding the explosion of the Space Shuttle CHALLENGER in January. The explosion was the first in-flight disaster in 56 manned US space missions. Christa McAuliffe, a teacher from New Hampshire, a subject of one of the photos in our Mini-Magazine, was one of the seven crew members who perished.

GRADUATION

The Honorable Charles Robb, Governor of the Commonwealth of Virginia, addressed an assembly of over 300 graduating students during the 1985 Commencement Exercises last May. Robb was a popular candidate to deliver a parting message to the class of '85 since 40% of our total student body hails from Virginia. The Governor received an enthusiastic reception from the graduates and their families, and was further honored by the institution's conferring upon him the honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

After the ceremony, graduates, their families and friends were treated to a reception on Scott Plaza. The former students had an opportunity to chat and reminisce with their Elon mentors. Many students left to pursue careers in business, to continue their education in various graduate schools, to marry, or simply return to life in their hometowns. One thing they all shared: warm memories of their years at Elon and the promise that they would always stay in touch with the friends they made here. This is the legacy that awaits us all.

The staff of the 1986 PHI PSI CLI wanted to present a yearbook that was more in touch with the climate of the year — both in terms of events at the college and events on a national and global scale. We tried to capture something of the unique spirit of 1985-86 and worked to include as many diverse and novel features as possible.

I would like to personally thank everyone who generously gave of their time and talents to help organize, design and publish the 1986 PHI PSI CLI. A project of this size can only be accomplished as a group effort — and I want to thank you all for your support.

Study Abroad

Last August, while most students were preparing to pack and return to campus for another semester, a small group of Elon students were traveling another route. They were heading eastward, across the Atlantic to spend the next four months in London, England. It's a far cry from Elon College, North Carolina. Those nineteen students, accompanied by Professor Will Mignuolo, would probably all venture to say that their semester abroad was as enlightening, challenging, and exciting as any experience they'd had.

Unlike Elon's winter term extravaganza in England, the semester students had to call their flats home, had to get to know London just as they would any other town in which they'd chosen to live. There were classes each week just like at Elon, there was homework to be done and obligations to be met, but there were a few differences. For instance, there were no classes on Fridays; instead the students were asked to keep that day open for day trips to such places as Cambridge, Oxford, Stratford-Upon-Avon, Wales, and Canterbury. Weekend road tripping (say to Edinburgh or Paris) was encouraged and all the students took advantage of a fifteen day fall break where students toured countries in Great Britain and Europe.

IFC, PANHELLENIC and RUSH COUNCIL

Integrating Greek life at Elon

The 1985-86 school year has been prosperous for the Inter-Fraternity Council. Its members have worked diligently to improve Greek image on the campus and to unify the relationships among the six fraternities. "Success" is the best way to describe the effort that has been put forth by the council. Credit for the success is extended to the following: Bob Moser, Phil Hobaugh, Dwayne Mirelli, Chris Gilbert, as well as those individuals already listed with the picture. These are the people that put the time, frustration, effort, and patience into making the Greek Fraternity System a viable and strong organization. It hopes that the system will continue to strengthen in the coming years.

During Spring semester, 1986, David Rich, Kevin Torchia, Grice Murray, John Walker, and Steve Wilson became the newest members of the Inter-Fraternity Council.

ALPHA KAPPA PSI

From October of '84 through May 4 of '85, Dr. Martin L. Sholtzberger (advisor) and 27 devoted students worked to get the Mu Pi Chapter of the Alpha Xappa Psi National Professional Business Fraternity installed here at Elon College. Many long hours and late nights were spent drawing up and filling out the proper forms which would make this possible. There are well over 200 chapters nationwide with our closest associates being UNC-Chapel Hill and N.C. State. All of those affiliated with the Mu Pi Chapter of Alpha Kappa Psi hope and believe that we will be a force in drawing the Business Department closer together and further strengthening one of the strongest business programs in the Southeastern United States.

Fighting Christians CONSISTENT

Coach Mackey Carden believes in consistency. His Fighting Christians answered that call once again as they tied up the 1985 season into a 7-3 record — the exact record of four previous football seasons.

The Fighting Christians collected the Carolina Conference and District 26 championships and traveled to Idaho for their second trip to the NAIA world series since 1958. They are now ranked 6th in the NAIA pole and 5th in the nation. Led by All-Conference batters Mo Morton, Jeff Neufang, Greg Harris, and John Driscoll, Elon ended the season with a respectable 40-10 record. Head coach Charles (Rick) Jones stole away with Conference and District Coach of the Year honors.

BASKETBALL

Rebound for Glory

With one of the best recruiting classes in the history of the college, Elon's basketball mentor Bill Morningstar looked forward to a winning season in 1985-86. To begin with, Morningstar had 6-7 power forward Eric Hairston and a 6-5 jumping Jack Bernard Toraon returning. Hairston, a junior from Eden, averaged nearly nine points and six rebounds a year ago. Torain, a sophomore from Hurdle Mills saw limited playing time but will see extremely more with the departure of Robert Leak.

Add to that 6-5 guard/forward Vincent Richardson, sophomore from Newport News, Va., 6-4 forward Jerry Russell, sophomore from Greensboro, 6-3 Chris Calton, sophomore from Greensboro, and 6-6 sophomore forward Eric Blair from Bowie, MD.

"We had a tremendous recruiting year," Morningstar said. "We'll have a strong with a lot of quickness, good ballhandling and good shooters. We'll be a team that comes on late in the year and makes a run for it."

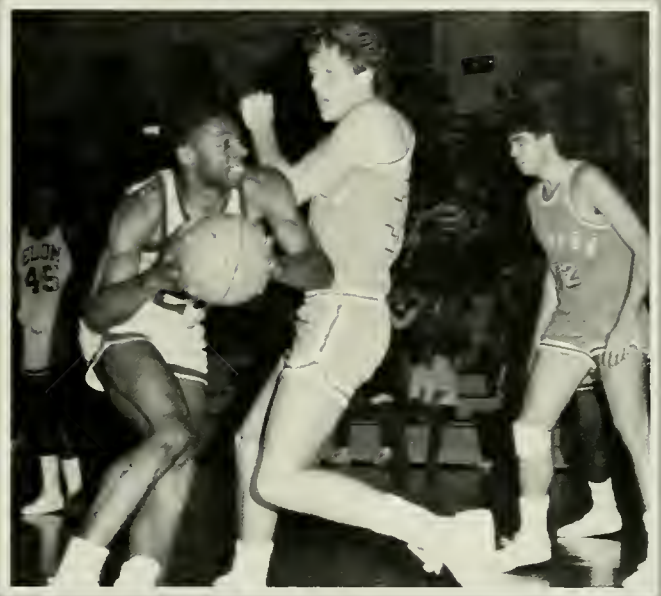

Morningstar predicted that Pfeiffer, Guilford and High Point would be at the top of his list for teams to beat in the conference. Gardner-Webb and Belmont Abbey were added to the list for the district race.

Elon College began with a new coach this year, and for players and fans alike, it was an interesting switch. Tom Parham, longtime coach for Atlantic Christian, took the reigns vacated last year when Danny Morrison left for Wofford College.

Elon finished 12-4-1 last year under interim coach Steve Rickard. The Fightin' Christians were 6-2-1 in the conference and finished fourth in the Carolinas Conference and District 26. But the addition of Parham will definitely enhance Elon's chances in the spring. Parham won 14 district and 11 conference titles while being named Coach of the Year 28 times for the conference and district. He was NAIA National Coach of the Year in 1985, as well as 1977 and 1979. His teams won National Championships in 1979 and 1984.

"I'm glad to be at Elon," Parham said. "Hopefully we can get in the thick of things pretty quickly."

There are several outstanding players returning players, and Parham is predicting a good year and hopes to continue the upward escalation.

WOMEN'S TENNIS

Winning is their racquet!

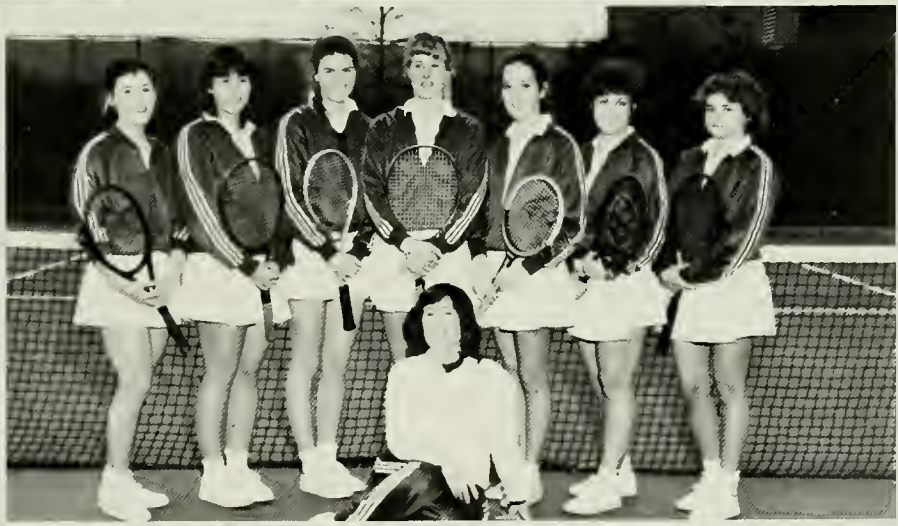

After finishing the 1985 season with eight wins in its last 10 games, the Elon College women's tennis team is looking forward to getting the season underway in 1986. New head Coach Byrd Britt will replace former coach Karen Carden and also looks forward to the challenge.

"It will be tough since no recruiting has been done but we should fare okay," Britt said. "We only have five players back that we know will be playing but there should be a couple of girls in the school who are able to compete that will help us fill out the roster."

Elon finished fourth in the conference tournament and fifth in the district tournament a year ago while going 9-7 during the season. Although several vital players are not returning, five very good players are. The year should be interesting, and with a little lady luck, the Golden Girls could climb into the winner's circle.

GOLF

A winning year is par for the course

In the world of sports, there are two sayings that come and go with the seasons. One states that all good things must come to an end. The other states that things have to begin somewhere.

The Elon golf program appears to be going between the two but the latter will be more appropriate for the coming year. A recruiting class of nine freshmen and one sophomore will be in Bill Morningstar's powerful golf program this season. To go with them will be four seniors who are going to carry the load early.

"This looks to be a rebuilding year," Morningstar said. "We lost four of our top six players. We'll have to rely on Chris Dockrill, Richard Adams, and Craig Gunn early. I believe we had a good recruiting year with freshmen."

The Fightin' Christians lost the services of Barry Pilson and Tom Martine to graduation. Those two were both All-Conference and All-District a year ago. Adams, a sophomore from England, averaged 77.61 a year ago, finished only four strokes off the pace at the Max Ward Invitational. Gunn, a sophomore from Danville, VA., averaged 78.71 while Dockrill, a senior from Nova Scotia in Canada, averaged 79.11.

Also returning will be seniors Jimmy Merri-man of Collinsville, VA., David Startzel of Salisbury, MD., and David Russell of Alexandria, VA. Junior Ron Dorrestein of The Netherlands rounds out the list of returnees.

CLASS OF 1986 LIGHT AT THE END OF THE TUNNEL

Finally! The time has come to switch tracks, to begin a new journey. The light is yours. It will brighten with yours days as you continue to grow, to build for yourself the opportunity to search for new light . . . at the end of many tunnels.

HAVE A SEAT!

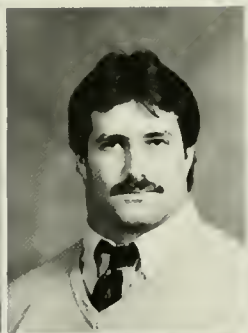

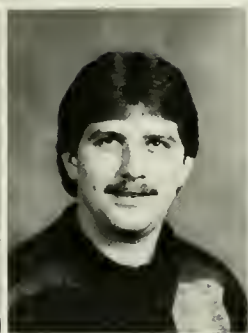

Caught off-guard in McEwen Library, these two students give new meaning to "group study."

NO MORE TANGLES?

WSOE technician looks exasperated as he confronts a maze of cables.

"TEMPORARY INSANITY?"

Professor Allen Sanders explains a concept to his class.

"This is what I call 'room service'!"

THE BEGINNING OF THE END

The end . . . it merely constitutes the means. The means . . . Elon College, and from here, you begin. Time to tie up loose ends and start packing. The path you have chosen awaits.

"I'LL BET YOU SAY THAT TO ALL THE GIRLS!!"

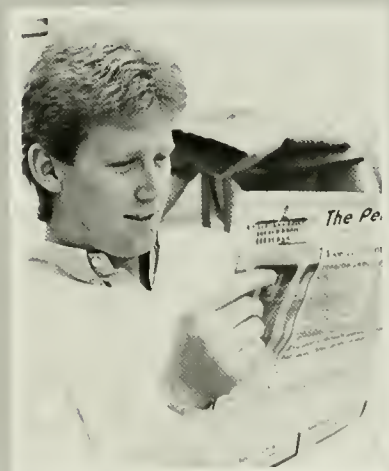

It's not very likely that this coed will be taken for a ride—especially since the car in question is hers!

"WHY ME?"

This professor is the picture of exasperation as he confronts a class that clearly has other things on its mind.

WHAT'S NEWS?

Keeping up with who did what to whom is easy with a weekly persual of the PENDULUM.

"SO THEN WHAT DID HE SAY?"

Most of us found more than the food to discuss in McEwen Dining Hall.

MAKING WAVES

Making a difference . . . a contribution. Life goes on beyond the classroom. Learning continues. It's a year to find your niche, to enjoy new experiences. Take the chance . . . while you have it.

"DO YOU THINK WE'LL EVER GET THE HANG OF THIS?"

Studying with a friend is still the best way to get over the rough spots. Too bad we can't work on test papers together

GOING MY WAY?

How he stays up there is one thing. How he gets up there is another. One thing's for certain — he doesn't have to worry about hitchhikers.

"SINGLE WHITE FEMALE LONGS TO MEET . . ."

Lots of students agree that the one thing the PENDULUM lacks is a respectable personals column.

"GENERAL REQUIREMENTS"

That you learn to live with a roommate, even if she does sleep with the light on. That you take Religion 101, even if you are a business major. And you set the pace. It's your path to follow. You can only look ahead — the future is yours.

"SO, JOEL ... YOUR PARENT'S ARE GOING OUT OF TOWN ..."

Nobody ever said that getting through four years of college would be anything other than RISKY BUSINESS.

Going to McDonald's® is almost as much a part of school as going to class. You've made us the place to meet, to talk, to have a good time, to celebrate your victories and help forget defeats.

You've made McDonald's more than just another place to eat. And that's why, at McDonald's, we say...

IT'S A GOOD TIME FOR THE GREAT TASTE

Huffman Mill Road

*"Wow! Our order from Carolina is here already!
Call off the bridge tournament!"*

For unbeatable service, Carolina's the logical choice.

We once shipped an order to Alaska—by mail truck, bush plane, barge, and for the last 60 miles, by dogsled. It arrived on time.

Carolina customers have enjoyed that same unsurpassed service for over 55 years. Our professional staff has the background, skill, and dedication essential for getting you what you need on time, consistently, year after year.

And, with over 25,000 science teaching products to choose from, you're sure to find what you need at Carolina.

So remember, if you want top-quality teaching materials and reliable service, we're the logical choice.

the logical choice.

The images captured in this collection of "the Elon experience" emanate from the genuine sense of warmth and tradition found within these campus walls. It looks innocent enough with its rising colonnades and fountain plaza. But open a door and you find a world of new beginnings and opportunities for anyone willing to seek them. This is the true "essense of Elon."
